Exclusion Measure Up to President; Tokio is Watched

DEFENDS - PRESIDENT.
Washington, April 16.—Replying to critics of President Coolidge for his letter of protest against the trend of Japanese immigration, Senator Lodge, Mass., republican floor leader, declared today in the senate that the chief executive had acted entirely within his rights.

"This message," the Senator said, "relates directly to the conduct of public business with which the President is charged as chief executive."

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 16.—The senate having made doubly clear its emphatic rejection of Ambassador Hamihara's protest against exclusion of Japanese from the list of immigrants admissible to the United States, interest in this phase of the immigration question turned today to the attitude of President Coolidge and the reaction of the Tokio government.

The senate had before it the troublesome quota provisions of its immigration bill but expected passage of the measure by the end of the week, after which the points at which it differs from the house measure must be worked out in conference before the President is called upon to pass finally on the problem.

No indication has been given of President Coolidge's future course with reference to the exclusion question.

Adoption of the amendment excluding Japanese immigrants yesterday was more or less a formal completion of the senate's action Monday in rejecting by a majority vote of 75-15, Ambassador Hamihara's vigorous letter, the proposal of the immigration committee which would have given legal sanction to the "gentlemen's agreement."

Dispatches from Tokio saying "new important instructions" had been sent to Ambassador Hamihara were read with interest here.

Claims McAdoo Best Leader of Democrats

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, April 16.—A declaration that the recent Nebraska primary election marked W. C. McAdoo as the "natural leader of the progressive forces of the democratic party," was made today in a statement issued at McAdoo national headquarters by David L. Rockwell, national manager of the campaign.

"There was no candidate for the democratic presidential nomination in Nebraska. The McAdoo forces made absolutely no effort for a writing in of Mr. McAdoo's name, yet the result in 605 out of 1800 precincts gave 3677 votes for McAdoo against 435 for Henry Ford and 418 for Gov. Smith of New York."

Kiwanians Elected National Delegates

President Ray S. Kline and past president W. F. Strong were elected delegates to represent the Dixon Kiwanis club at the national convention to be held at Denver, at the regular weekly meeting of the club yesterday. O. M. Rogers and Robert Hallgren were elected alternates.

A resolution extending to five members of the Dixon Kiwanis club, the appreciation of the entire membership for the exceptional record given by Tito Schipa, world's famous tenor at the Dixon theater last Sunday afternoon, accorded the unanimous vote of the club.

No Earth Tremors Felt in England

By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, April 16.—While the seismographs at Eskdalemuir, Scotland, have been on the jump during the last week, recording several tremors and quakes at distances estimated from 600 to 800 miles, the British Isles themselves have remained unshaken.

The government meteorological department said today there was no record of any earth disturbances in England during the past few days. The statement was prompted by queries from abroad based on reports that there has been a pronounced recurrence of the tremors of early April experienced in spots in northern and eastern England.

Lightning Cause of $5,000 Farm Fire

LIVESTOCK, GRAIN DESTROYED EARLY TODAY BY BLAZE

38 Hogs and Sheep Perished on Patch Farm Near Franklin Grove.

Lightning which struck a large barn on the James Patch farm, two miles west of Franklin Grove on the Lincoln Highway, swept away the farm building about 4 o'clock this morning and consuming stock, the entire loss amounting to approximately $5,000 which is only partially covered by insurance. Lightning struck the main barn, which in a few minutes was a mass of flames.

Mr. Patch was awakened shortly after 4 o'clock by the glare of the flames and, with his son, rushed out into the barnyard in their night clothing and succeeded in releasing five head of horses, leading them out of the stable and into the pasture. Neighbors were summoned by telephone and lamps were consumed in the flames. The heat ignited the shingles on the roofs of the chicken house, garage, horse stable and these were soon a mass of roaring flames. The heat was of such intensity as to render efforts of the fire fighting force of farmers to save property all but futile. The direction of the wind is all that saved every building on the farm from being swept away. Considerable machinery, six tons of hay and ten tons of straw with about 50 bushels of oats and corn was consumed. All that remains is a mass of smoldering ruins to mark the site of four large buildings.

Gov. Smith Willing to Lead His Party

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Albany, N. Y., April 16.—Gov. A. E. Smith, New York, today stands before the nation a receptive candidate for the democratic presidential nomination—a candidate who announced himself as willing to accept the honor after the democratic state convention meeting here yesterday, had loudly acclaimed him as "the type of public official needed to fill the position."

Breaking his silence on the possibility of becoming presidential candidate, Gov. Smith in an address before the convention declared that he "would be honored beyond the power of expression to lead the forces of the party in the next campaign," if the necessary votes could be obtained at the democratic convention in New York next June.

Interest Centers in Stinnes' Young Son

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Berlin, April 16.—Interest in the future administration of the widespread interests left by Hugo Stinnes, centers in his second son, Hugo Hermann Stinnes, who while still in his teens was hailed as a precocious business genius.

He was constantly at his father's side even during the war and when out in charge of the family's shipping interests at Hamburg, four years ago startled the senior members of his board of directors by predicting the collapse of the mark.

When about to make his trip to America last year, Young Stinnes, after a family council was instructed whenever approached by reporters to make only a non-committal, brief statement.

Congressmen's Trial is Set for May 6th

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Covington, Ky., April 16.—Judge Cochran here today set May 6 as the date for the trial of Congressman J. W. Langley of Kentucky, under indictment with five other men, on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the alleged illegal withdrawal of whiskey from a distillery at Lawrenceburg, Ky.

Postpone Selection of "Oil" Grand Jury

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 16.—Selection of a grand jury before which to be presented the criminal cases growing out of the senate oil investigation was deferred today until April 25.

Wilson Regime is Involved

Dixon Elks' Club to Be Shown in Big Advertising Display

An exterior of the Dixon Elks club and an interior of the lodge hall, is to be used in the national advertising campaign of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. Representatives of this concern from Pittsburgh and the branch offices at Chicago were in Dixon Monday, conferring with N. H. Jensen, who last year redecorated the interior of the club building, using products of the Pittsburgh company almost entirely. There representatives had no hesitancy in selecting the Dixon Elks club as one of the features to be used in their nationwide advertising campaign in magazines and trade journals.

HAMON'S WIDOW WILL NOT OBEY SENATE ORDERS

Refuses to Go to Capital to Testify in Daugherty Probe.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, April 16.—Mrs. Georgia Hamon Rohrer, widow of Jake L. Hamon, slain Oklahoma politician, served last night with a subpoena to appear before the Brookhart-Wheeler senate investigating committee, declared she would not go to Washington under any circumstances.

Any papers relating to her late husband's political connection probably were burned up months ago, she said. Another thing, "I'm a good democrat and never was given any of the republican secrets Mr. Hamon was supposed to possess."

Officers ended a search of ten days for Mrs. Rohrer when they served her with the summons. It was said they would await further instructions from Washington.

L. W. Dixon, telegraph operator, who was in charge of the late Senator Boies Penrose's private wire between Chicago and Philadelphia during the 1920 republican convention here, was also served with a summons to appear before the senate committee.

The subpoena for Dixon was said to have referred to the fact that Dixon handled a leased wire from the Waukegan, Ill. court room during the trial and acquittal two years ago of Governor Len Small. There was no explanation of the reference to the Waukegan case.

Urges Acceptance of Hooker Shoals Plan

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 16.—Beginning public hearings on Muscle Shoals, the senate agricultural committee was urged today by E. H. Hooker to approve the Hooker-White-Atterbury proposal included in a bill by Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York.

The bill provides a 50-year lease on a profit sharing basis with a $1,000,000 corporation to be organized.

"The only advantage we have over other offers," Hooker said, "that we have spent our life in the chemical industry."

"Other offers are asking Uncle Sam to put up 96 and 97 percent of the money needed with the company getting the bulk of the profits."

"Our proposition calls for the government to put 95 percent of the capital and get the bulk of the profits," Hooker said the fertilizer end could be made an enormous part of the operations.

Macdonald Willing to Talk Armaments

London, April 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Macdonald, responding today to a speech in the House of Commons by Major General Seely, former president of the air council, who advocated that the premier call an international conference for air disarmament, declared he would welcome an invitation by any other power to take up the whole question of armaments.

Big Payroll Robbery in Akron, O., Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Akron, O., April 16.—Six men in an automobile held up a payroll car on its way from the Ohio State Bank here to the American Hard Rubber Co., this morning and escaped with $17,000 payroll. Shots were exchanged but none is believed to have been wounded.

CHARGES MADE AGAINST ALIEN PROPERTY BOSS

Wheeler's Committee Evidently Went a Bit Too Far.

Washington, April 16.—Having failed in another attempt to call Howard Manning before it, the senate Daugherty committee today again questioned George W. Storck, a department of justice investigator, whose story swung back into grave charges of irregularities in the administration of alien property under the Wilson administration.

Storck charged that Martin E. Kern, purchaser of the Bosch Magneto property, had paid $10,000 in 1920 to Joseph P. Guffey, Pennsylvania democratic leader, and sales manager under Alien Property Custodian A. Mitchell Palmer. The payment, the witness said, was ostensibly in connection with liquor permits which Guffey never delivered.

Serious irregularities in alien property transactions in the Philippine Islands, also were charged by the witness who said Francis Burton Harrison, then governor general, acted in the matter for Palmer. All of the results of his investigations were turned over to the Department of Justice while Harry M. Daugherty was attorney general, he said, but nothing done about them.

Claims Papers Inspected.
Storck said since he testified last week, his papers both in the department of justice and in his hotel room had been mysteriously inspected, although they were under lock and key.

Gaston B. Means was recalled after Storck had been excused and testified that Jess Smith had told him, Attorney General Daugherty was going to "use" former Attorney General Palmer and Francis Garvan to "control" the situation at the capital" rather than indict them in connection with alien property custodian cases.

Record Prices for Lettuce This Week

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, April 16.—Record prices for California lettuce, advancing prices of strawberries and high prices of Texas cabbage were notable in fruit and vegetable markets. The second week in April according to the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics in a report issued today.

Iceberg lettuce smashed all records at $9 a crate in New York City. The volume of strawberry shipments was only half as great as a year ago. Louisiana, the heaviest shipper, advanced prices sharply. Imperial Valley berries during the week reached as far east as Chicago.

Played with Dynamite, Boy is Minus Fingers

Freeport, Ill.—Victor O. Johnson, 12 years old, is in Globe hospital minus two fingers of his right hand as a result of having exploded a dynamite cartridge yesterday at his home near South Wayne, Wis.

Wishing to blow soap bubbles and lacking the customary clay pipe, he took a cartridge and planned to dig out the contents, using the empty brass tube to blow bubbles with.

In picking out the dynamite he discharged the cartridge and his right hand was badly lacerated.

Surgeons found it necessary to amputate two fingers.

Ticket No. 2 Wins Polo City Election

(Telegraph Special Service)
Polo, April 16.—Ticket No. 2 in yesterday's city election was the winning combination, returns show. This ticket was: O. E. Miller, 453; Fred Stahler, 449; E. L. Stull, 342. The defeated ticket, No. 1, polled as follows: Forest Hopkins, 157; Charles H. Weaver, 120; William Palmer, 66. A. C. Owen, running independently, got 237 votes.

Gasoline Stove Blew Up at Dinner Hour

A gasoline stove exploded at the home of Edward Klapprodt, 1019 Madison avenue at the noon hour yesterday while dinner was being prepared, and the fire department responded to a call and extinguished the blaze. The interior furnishings of the kitchen was scorched, but no serious damage was done.

COOLIDGE SURE GUARANTEE SAYS SEC. OF STATE

President Praised By Mr. Hughes in N. Y. Keynote Speech.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, April 16.—Secretary Hughes in the keynote address at the opening of the state republican convention last night, declared that the republican administration at Washington would neither condone wrong nor extenuate crime, but condemned traitors and scandal mongers. He emphasized what he termed republican achievement, asserting that President Coolidge was his own platform and that "the best assurance" of the future is the character of Calvin Coolidge.

"You will search in vain for a more ideal executive than President Coolidge," he said. "The American people have already indicated their determination to keep him where he is."

Referring to investigations in Washington, the Secretary said the administration would not put any obstacle in the way of discovery and punishment of any official dereliction.

"Neither political party has a monopoly of virtue or rascality."

No Movement to Open Pool Rooms Here on Sunday

Reports have been circulated by some of the backers of the movement to close the Dixon Theater on Sunday, to the effect that if the proposed ordinance is not passed the pool and billiard rooms in Dixon will be opened Sunday.

This rumor is entirely unfounded. The pool and billiard rooms in Dixon are closed on Sunday by a city ordinance which will not be effected in any way by Friday's vote. Furthermore, The Telegraph is informed today by representatives of the billiard and pool room owners in Dixon that they would oppose any movement to open their places of business on Sunday. They do not want them open on Sunday and regardless of how Friday's election goes the pool and billiard rooms will continue to observe Sunday closing.

Dixon Firm is Low Bidder on Plumbing Work at the Colony

(Telegraph Special Service)
Springfield, Ill., April 16.—The following were the lowest bidders for work on the new hospital building at the Dixon State Colony for which bids were opened today by the state department of Public Works and Buildings: For general work, the Strandenbergs Company of Chicago with a bid of $107,551; plumbing, Klein & Heckman of Dixon whose bid was $11,820; electrical work, Marrs-Danner Electric Company of Danville, $6,240; heating work, Best Brothers Plumbing and Heating Company of Quincy, $7,997.

Hamilton Lands a Big Fish Tuesday

The warm sun of yesterday brought out many fishermen, who sat for hours west of the power dam angling for members of the finny tribe, but without success. Two lines had been snapped by what appeared to be a large fish. Dr. F. L. Hamilton selected a lively minnow from his pail, cast it into the stream and in a few minutes landed a fine big pickerel, the largest that has been taken from Rock river here this season.

CONCRETE ROAD ON NORTH SIDE ASKED BY SOME

Objectors to Such Improvement Also Addressed Council.

A petition bearing the signatures of 22 owners of property on the north side was presented and read to the city council at the regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening, in which a concrete paving was asked. The improvement has been requested on Assembly Place from Academy Place to Chamberlain street and on East Morgan street from Jefferson avenue to Assembly Place. Another petition bearing the signatures of five property owners was also submitted in which the council was asked to ignore the concrete paving improvement at this time and repair the street by building a roadway with ashes. No action was taken on either petition, both being tabled until the next meeting. A delegation of citizens favoring the improvement was present at the meeting.

An ordinance was passed submitting to the state officials plans for the proposed installation of a storm and sanitary sewer in the west end of the city.

William Frye and Fred D. Dana were appointed to audit the city books.

In the meeting of the board of local improvements at which time the Peoria avenue paving proposition was brought up, there were no objectors present.

Urges Equal Rights Be Extended to Chaplains

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 16.—Representatives of many religious denominations appeared today before a joint hearing of senate and house subcommittees to urge legislation to give military chaplains the same opportunity for advancement as is afforded officers in the medical, dental and veterinarian departments and to increase their ratio to one for each 800 men.

Dr. C. S. MacFarland, general secretary of the federal council, who holds the rank of major in the officers' reserve corps, explaining the bill, said the proposal was merely a request for removal of "all discriminations against chaplains, and an adequate chaplain ministry for enlisted men and officers of the army."

Wheat in Part of Ill. Frozen During Winter

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., April 16.—Considerable wheat in central Illinois, has been winter killed, and is being plowed up for oats, according to the weather bureau's crop bulletin issued here today.

"The ground is cold in the north," the bulletin says, "oats seeding has progressed under favorable conditions and there has been considerable plowing for corn. Rain is needed in some areas. Grasses are growing. The condition of wheat is only fair."

Fruit trees are blossoming in the extreme south."

Ticket Scalpers in Detroit Are Nabbed

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Detroit, Mich., April 16.—Twelve ticket scalpers were arrested at the opening baseball game here yesterday, police said today. The men were held until the game was virtually over and then released. About 100 tickets were confiscated. The men admitted charging as high as $10 for reserved seat tickets police said.

Former Dixon Lady Died in California

Word has been received by Sterling relatives of the death of Mrs. Lafayette Reitz, who passed away at Pasadena, Calif. Deceased was a former resident of Dixon. The funeral was held today at Pasadena, with burial at that place.

McAdoo Won Only 3 Wisconsin Delegates

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Madison, Wis., April 16.—William McAdoo won three of the 25 Wisconsin delegates to the democratic national convention in the April primary. It was certain today with final official returns from all 71 counties. The other 22 delegates are pledged to Governor Smith of New York.

Funeral services will be held at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning, with burial in Oakwood cemetery. The deceased, who formerly was Miss Alice Quinn, was born in Amboy, and is survived by her mother, her husband and two sisters, Miss Emma Quinn of Dixon and Mrs. John Kennedy of Lakenan, Mo. In addition to a number of aunts and other relatives in Amboy.

Collins Decides He'll Return Without Papers

Jim Collins, who was arrested by Chief Van Bibber and Officer Winters late Monday night, driving a Hudson coach which had been stolen from in front of the LaFayette Inn at Clinton, Iowa, went back to that city with Chief of Police Lorenz yesterday afternoon. Collins deliberated while occupying a cell in the city jail and decided to go back to Iowa without requisition papers.

George W. Cravens, vice president and general manager of the Climax Engineering Co. of Clinton, owner of the car, came to Dixon with Chief Lorenz yesterday afternoon and drove his car back home.

MAJOR MARTIN FORCED DOWN; OTHERS SAFE

Search Made in Kialagvik Bay Vicinity for Lost Aviator

BULLETIN.
(By Associated Press.)
Bremerton, W a s h., April 16.—(2:47 p. m.)—The Destroyer Hull rescued Major F. L. Martin and Sergeant Alva Hawley in Forage Bay, at 11:34 this morning, according to a wireless report received here from the Hull.

Cordova, Alaska, April 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The airplane Seattle, in which Major Frederick L. Martin, commander of the U. S. Army air squadron winging its way around the earth, left Seward, Alaska, yesterday morning, is the object of a search being conducted this morning in the vicinity of Kialagvik Bay, northeast of Chignik on the southwestern tip of Kodiak Island, by the two U. S. Naval destroyers Corry and Hull, and the steamship Starr.

Major Martin is believed to have been forced down.

The three other planes of the squadron, the Chicago, Boston and New Orleans, arrived safely at Chignik, 450 miles from Seward yesterday, according to wireless advices received here. The dispatches did not explain why Major Martin had been forced down.

Warships Join Search.
The two destroyers and the Starr, which was in the vicinity, were notified of the missing plane last night and immediately started for Kialagvik Bay at full speed.

Major Martin was last seen headed west of Cape Igvak, the western entrance to Portage, west of Kodiak Island. He had difficulty in popping off at Seward and was preceded by the other fliers by several minutes.

The next scheduled stop of the fliers is at Dutch Harbor, 400 miles from Chignik. The departure for that point will be delayed until Major Martin is located.

Wilson "Tradition of Democrats" Plan of Wing of the Party

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, April 16.—A movement has been launched by the democrats who were close to President Wilson, to "fasten the Woodrow Wilson tradition on the party" at the forthcoming national convention.

At a banquet of the Woodrow Wilson Democracy last night, it was resolved to maintain headquarters during the convention here. George W. Wescott, Camden, N. J., who nominated Wilson at the Baltimore convention, was the principal speaker.

"Let us," he said, "press forward and reincarnate Woodrow Wilson. As Abe Lincoln has for 30 years been the dominant tradition of the republican party, so now should Wilson be made for the democrats."

Missouri Democrats to Be Uninstructed

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Mo., April 16.—The Missouri delegation will go to the national democratic convention uninstructed but bound by the unit rule with a majority governing the voting delegation, the state convention here having adopted their report of the resolution committee early today before it adjourned.

A fight over an amendment to the report of the resolution committee denouncing the Ku Klux Klan ended when the convention adopted a substitution introduced by Charles M. Hay, St. Louis.

The sub-amendment did not mention the Klan but urged prompt and impartial administration of justice, civil and religious liberty and freedom of the press.

Democratic Meet in Madison Sq. Garden

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, April 16.—Madison Square Garden will be the scene of the democratic national convention next June. This was determined last night by members of the democratic national committee who decided against the 25th field artillery armory.

battle the home team illustrated the famous phrase "won in the 9th" defeating the Cubs 6-5. Ban Johnson, president of the American League, sat at Boston where the World's chamampions fought their steel by winning the hardest fought contest of the day

2-1.

A group of show girls supplied an appropriate dish of Broadway to the Giant opening at New York where more than 44,000 people—the largest crowd of the day—saw the maligned

Brooklyn Robins beat the National League champions in a close game 3-2.

Mayors and dignitaries of other cities tossed baseballs in the general directions of the plate while bands played and crowds that exceeded 25,000 in most places cheered their efforts.

Old favorites started well. Walter

Johnson's feat at Washington was rivalled by George Sisler, the St. Louis American manager who after a season's lay off with defective vision, yesterday batted 500, was largely responsible for his team's 7-3 victory over

Chicago and felled 15 "chances perfectly.

Ruth Started Rally

Babe Ruth did not hit a homer, but started the Yankee rally in the 9th which brought his team from the rear and led to victory. Cy Williams, the National League home run king, turned up with 3 singles. Harry Heilmann,

American League champion batsman started with an average of 646 and

Rogers Hornsby, his National League rival, chalked up 400. Ty Cobb batted 333 and saved his team's game with a sensational catch.

It is logical to assume that the agricultural implement business eventually will be profitable again. The record of Case Threshing Machine seems to indicate that it can afford to wait quite a while for that time to appear, especially since it still has its property unincumbered. In case it should be necessary to put out some long term financing, if conditions in this industry should remain poor, it seems more likely that the companies who are burdened with relatively heavy issues of bonds, would be the ones to suffer the most. Probably when conditions again have returned to normal, only relatively few strong companies will be in the business, so that they may be able to recoup their losses more or less quickly.

WHEN THE BIRDS GO NORTH AGAIN.
Oh, every year hath its winter,
And every year hath its rain—
But a day is always coming
When the birds go north again.

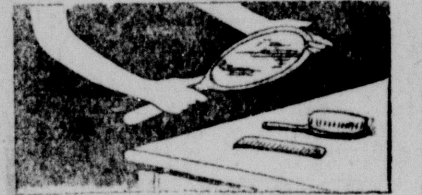

When new leaves swell in the forest,
And grass springs on the plain,
And the alders' veins turn crimson—
And the birds go north again.

Oh, every heart hath its sorrow,
And every heart hath its pain—
But a day is always coming
When the birds go north again.

'Tis the sweetest thing to remember
If courage be on the wane,
When the cold, dark days are over—
Why, the birds go north again.
—Ella Higginson.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—

Clean Pillows.
To clean pillows empty the feathers into a cheese-cloth bag and tie securely. Then wash in a big tub of strong white soapuds to which ammonia has been added. Rinse in clear hot water twice and hang to drain and dry in the sun.

AVOID VERMIN.
Never set sticky dishes or bowls in your refrigerator or on the closet shelves. That is one sure way to draw vermin.

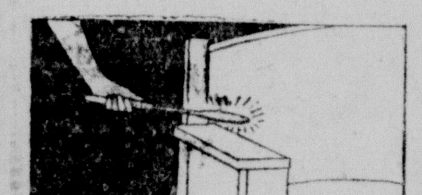

Scratches.
A scratch in furniture that goes no deeper than the varnish may be helped by holding a red hot poker an inch above it for the space of about half a minute, and rubbing with as soon as it cools with a mixture of alcohol, olive oil and vinegar in equal quantities.

Resilvering.
If a mirror is badly blurred, resilvering it is the only remedy and it is better to take this to a professional than to try to do it yourself.

Keep Them Clean.
Never put away your coats or shoes with mud on them; likewise if they are dusty, clean them before they go into the closet.

Air Linens.
In damp weather don't neglect to air your linen occasionally.

Cleaning Stove.
Instead of using stove blacking on a stove, many housewives prefer merely to wash the stove and oil it occasionally.

Reception By Pres. and Mrs. Coolidge

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 16.—Morning, afternoon and evening sessions and a White House reception today occupied delegates attending the 33rd continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution today with consideration of questions of international relations, immigration, Americanization, moving pictures, legislation before congress and other subjects. In addition, they had before them reports on genealogical research, state and chapter by-laws, historical and literary reciprocity and other matters.

The reception this afternoon by the President and Mrs. Coolidge provided one of the principal events on the week's program.

82nd Birthday Observed Yesterday

Yesterday being the eighty-second birthday anniversary of Thomas Caufield of this city a delightful surprise was planned and carried out by his children.

At noon a delicious picnic dinner was enjoyed by Mr. Caufield, his children, grand children and great grandchildren. The centerpiece was a large birthday cake beautifully decorated and bearing the inscription "father" on it.

Mr. Caufield was remembered with many gifts in various forms. The William O'Malley family of Freeport and Mrs. John Lowery of Chicago, were here for the occasion.

Regular Meeting of P. E. O. Held Mon.

The regular meeting of Chapter A C. Ill. P. E. O., was held at the home of Mrs. Collins Dysart Monday afternoon.

Chapter A C. Ill. was organized in Dixon in April 1911 and an anniversary program had been prepared for this meeting.

The feature of the program was the reading of letters from the non-resident members, who have kept their affiliation with the local chapter.

Letters were read from Miss Nellie Weed of Pulaaki, N. Y.; Mrs. Jessie Reid of Denver, Colo.; Miss Lilian Snyder, Norwich, Conn.; Miss Josephine Ives, Chicago; and Mrs. Ethel Van Spanckeren of Tempe, Ariz.

After the program a pleasant social hour was enjoyed, during which Mrs. Dysart and Miss Dysart served most tempting refreshments.

South Dixon Community Club

Mrs. Jesse Lautzenheiser delightfully entertained the members of the South Dixon Community club and a large number of friends at her hospitable home on Wednesday afternoon, April 9.

Part of the afternoon was spent in sewing, but before the short business meeting a very interesting program was given by Mrs. J. C. Wadsworth, Mrs. Walter Ortleger and Mrs. Roy Fischer, the numbers were serious jolly and varied and add much pleasure to the afternoon's entertainment.

Roll call was answered by each one reading an article on what other women were doing throughout the country. It renewed in their minds that women's work was unlimited, and no doubt a number of ideas derived from these clippings will soon be put into action.

During the social hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Peter Hoyle and Mrs. Alfred Tourtellott closing a most delightful afternoon's meeting.

Mrs. Alfred Tourtellott, Mrs. U. G. Puffs and Mrs. Frank Glessner will have charge of the next program.

The next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. George Travis, all members are urged to be present, as their is some work to be done. Come prepared to sew.

Roll call to be answered by memory gems.

Larger Brims to Feature New Hats

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, April 16.—Larger brims will feature feminine headwear in the next few weeks and burnt goose feathers will adorn the cloche shape hat of the hothbed haired woman, according to announcement of the millinery jobbers association.

The new hat is made of straw or hair braid and often of mahone, georgette, canton crepe and other materials adorned with flowers. Black is very popular.

Phidian Art Club Meeting

The Misses Murphy pleasantly entertained the Phidian Art club yesterday afternoon at their home on Second street.

During the business session, preceding the program, delegates were elected to attend the District Federation meeting at Warren on May second and third. Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Durkes are first and second delegates; Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Beede, first and second alternates.

Delegates were also elected to attend the State Federation meeting to be held in Moline on May 20, 21 and 22. Mrs. Moore was elected first delegate, Miss Fannie Murphy second; Mrs. Earl and Mrs. Frank Edwards, first and second alternates.

Mrs. Jessie P. Taylor had the excellently prepared paper of the afternoon on "Modern Discoveries and Bible," which was much enjoyed.

During the social interval which followed the business session and the program, Mrs. Lloyd Davies, niece of the Misses Murphy, assisted them in serving the inviting refreshments.

NEWS FROM DIXON

Triangle Club Had Knot-Tying Lesson

The Triangle club had a very interesting session at its regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening. After the supper, which consisted mainly of beans, a demonstration of knot-tying was given by two of the members of the club, John Lockett and Harold Schartner. Ten different kinds of knots were tied, their uses and effectiveness explained and then the rest of the club tried their luck with only fair success as the rope wouldn't behave in the proper manner and everybody had too many thumbs. It was reported that the taking of tests for the first angle had started and it is expected that many will complete these tests in the near future. As a wind-up to the meeting the club initiated a new member, Kenneth Ketchin, who rode the goat in the usual manner.

Freeport Coming to Tackle Dixon Teams

The proposed volleyball match with the Freeport "Y" will not take place until the latter part of April, according to a letter received this morning. The Freeport volleyball players feel that they need practice before tackling the local spikers and passers and reports are that they are hard at work preparing for the contest. It has been more than five years since Freeport has ventured to Dixon to play volleyball and they plan on bringing two teams. That means that two Dixon teams will have to get busy and do a little practicing, also, in order to win. Get busy you volleyball ballers on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 o'clock.

BOOST DIXON—VOTE NO.

With all due respect to the opinions and high motives that actuate the backers of the movement to close Sunday entertainments in Dixon, The Evening Telegraph honestly believes that such action would be a serious handicap to Dixon's growth and prosperity without any recompense in the way of better morals, greater church attendance or improved conditions in any way.

Was the concert by Tito Schipa Sunday afternoon injurious to Dixon's morals? Did it start any of us on the slippery slide to hell?
Did it inspire any of you to start capering down the primrose path?

Most of the Sunday entertainment that the proposed ordinance would prohibit, is different in only one particular from programs offered in many churches on Sunday afternoons and Sunday evenings. The chief difference is that at the theater you pay as you enter and in church you pay when the plate is passed.
Paid entertainers, musicians, glee clubs, and the like are appearing in churches for special entertainments on Sunday frequently all over the land. It is a very high-grade of entertainment and should be allowed and should be supported by the public. But if that sort of entertainment is allowed in Dixon why should the public be denied the right to hear such a marvelous and world-renowned artist as Tito Schipa? There is an inconsistency here.

A true and broad Christianity will give ample room for church attendance and a little amusement and entertainment such as a clean and wholesome movie show on the same day. It will not deny such helpful, simple pleasure to the hard-working citizen who cannot go on other days. It will be hypocritical enough to draw the line on such humble form of pleasure when it does not prohibit automobile rides, picnic in the woods, bathing at the beach, golf and other forms of amusement that cost much more but are none the less respectable just because they are not within the reach of everyone. Real Christianity, as we see it—and we hope for the sake of our faith that we see it right—is not like that.

When you vote on Friday think of your neighbor and your fellow citizens as well as yourself. And don't try to regulate your neighbor's morals with your vote. You can't make him an angel by passing an ordinance.
You can bar him from a good theater entertainment, but he'll probably find a much worse place to spend the evening.

Vote No.

MOTHER'S DAY.

May 11 will be Mother's day. It is a good day especially for service men to remember.
The adjutant general of South Dakota has,
by direction of the governor of that state, sent out a circular letter to all organizations of national guardsmen urging that each soldier, if he is away from home, write his mother a letter, or, if he is at home, give some appreciation. "Boys" who saw service in the late war and are fortunate enough to have mothers still living, are not likely to have them many years longer. It is meet that they should on Mothers' day give suitable expression of appreciation of the one who is always "the best woman on earth." Illinois men probably need no urging to remember mother on May 11.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT POSSIBLE FOOD SHORTAGE.

The notable saving in babies' lives and the extension of the average period of human life is worrying a statistician lest the increase of population may mean that in a generation or so America will not have enough food to go round. "The race is increasing faster than substance," he says. The American farmer, who can not sell all he raises, will surely disagree with him. Development of agricultural machinery, increase of farm intelligence and efficiency, improvement of grains, vegetables and fruits, advancement of transportation, increasing manufacture of fertilizers—all these make it continually easier to produce the food needed and require fewer farmers and fewer acres. Add to this the fact that we are still eating too much now and spending too much money on "reducing" quacks and systems, may we not become virile race if we are forced to eat a little less?

PLACING THE BLAME.

One of the popular activities of the times,
if not of all time, is that of placing responsibility on others. Sometimes it can be accomplished with a degree of success, but in other attempts they only turn out to be ridiculous. Public opinion may not always decide correctly, but it is known to determine definitely.

It is not consistent on the part of adults to complain if boys and girls imitate them, or even inaugurate some ideas of their own in the matter of apparel and conduct. Instruction which is not backed up by example is not likely to prove very effective in the matter of behavior and morals.

Some one has said that if you want to get the best results in character for a child you must begin with his grandparents. This principle, if it ever had a place, must still obtain, for human nature is very much the same from one generation to another. What is the use?
Posterity will come along and do about as it pleases anyhow.

GERMAN CAPITAL.

In a letter accompanying the report of his committee of experts to the reparations commissions, Chairman Dawes makes this luminous suggestion:

"That Germany might grant an amnesty for a limited time to those bringing their capital back, who violated German law in sending it abroad, and that special terms be offered for subscriptions to government loans which are made in foreign currencies."

This touches the root of the matter. The basic reason for the economic difficulties hindering German reparation payment has been the flight of German capital. It is estimated that as much as $2,000,000,000 belonging to wealthy Germans has sought refuge in Switzerland, Holland, American and other neutral countries, to avoid heavy taxation at home.
The resulting lack of capital has starved German industry at the same time it lowered German tax resources.

It is only right that such capital should be returned to Germany and taxed, as the report provides, at no less a rate than property in allied countries. German capitalists who will not share the burden deserve the contempt of their fellow-countrymen even more than of the outer world.

COAL TO BE CHEAPER.

Your coal bill for next winter should be considerably lower. No bituminous strike for at least three years, according to the recent agreement between the union and the mine operators.

And production of soft coal is tremendous.
In the last 12 months the mines produced over 542 million tons. This was 113 million tons more than the output in the preceding "coal year." There's an over-production, and competition should make prices highly attractive to consumers.

Any young man preparing for public life should be sure to study the laws of evidence and the art of oratorical self-defense.

Education is the basis of sanitation. Teach the houseflies that life in the open is more healthful—and there you are!

TOM SIMS SAYS

We never could cry very much over the suffering of a man who lost $100,000 in an oil deal, as one recently did in California.

Trouble with sleeping so late on Sunday is you eat breakfast and then have a hard time getting hungry for dinner.

Better buy some life insurance. If the agent doesn't sell you he will try to worry you to death.

A Chicago woman claims three women tried to steal her husband, which is bound to give him the swell head.

Oklahoma woman shot a neighbor for listening in on the telephone, but all of us can't do that.

While Yale students have voluntarily decided to limit drinking, some may consider the sky is the limit.

It is estimated a great many men will get hot worrying about the weather during the next few months.

The rest of your days depend upon the rest of your nights.

"You'll have to stay and we'll have a party."

"Now where are we going?" asked Nick.
Mister Muggs, the funny fairy man, pushed the thingamagig on the magic automobile and away it started for another place in Once-Upon-A-Time Land.
"We're going to see the Three Bears," nodded Mister Muggs.
"What Three Bears?" asked Nancy.
"Why, the ideal Goldilocks' three bears, of course!"
The Twins were too much excited to say another word, and the little car sped on and on and on over seven bridges and through seven tunnels and came at last to the forest where the bears lived.
Then they all got out and tapped on the front door.
But nobody was at home. The door was open a crack, so they all went in.
There stood three chairs, one for the papa bear, one for the mamma bear and one for little Johnny bear. The last had the bottom out of it where Goldilocks had sat it out. It had never been fixed.
And on the dining room table sat three bowls. But here was no soup in any of them!
And upstairs were three beds of different sizes—all muddled up as though they hadn't been made or aired for ages.
"Well, I declare!" said Mister Muggs. "This doesn't look like much of a place. No wonder they wouldn't stay at home with things in such a mess!"
"Oh, I've got a plan!" cried Nancy.
"Let's fix things up. I'll hunt clean sheets and pillow cases and make the beds and sweep the rooms, and then I'll go down to the kitchen and cook some soup."
"And I'll go out and get my tools in the automobile and mend little Johnny Bear's chair," said Mister Muggs. "And Nick can help."
Nancy found an apron and dust cap and put them on, and set to work.
And then she went down stairs and found some things in the grocery cupboard and soon such good smells were coming out of the kitchen that Nick and Mister Muggs could scarcely work.
Pretty soon they heard a growly voice outside say, "Woof! Woof! I smell something gorgeous."
And a middle-sized voice said, "I smell something wonderful."
And a teeny, tiny voice said, "I smell something grand!"
And in walked the three bears.
"Oh, there's that girl that spoiled our things," cried the papa bear.
"No, it isn't!" said the mamma bear.
"Where are your eyes?"
"And look, my chair's fixed," cried Johnny.
"And dinner's cooked! Hoopay!"
"And you ought to see your upstairs," said Nancy with pride. "The work's all done."
"You'll have to stay and we'll have a party," growled papa bear, politely.
"I'm glad to learn that all little girls are not selfish."

LEE CO. FARM BUREAU NOTES

DEPARTMENT HEADS CHOSEN.

According to information received by the Lee County Farm Bureau, F. A. Gouger has been chosen as director of poultry and egg marketing for the Illinois Agricultural Association succeeding J. D. Horner, and H. C. Butcher has succeeded Edgar L. Hiss as director of information for the association.

Mr. Gouger is well known in Illinois, having been Farm Adviser in Adams county for four years, previous to which he was in county agent work in Missouri for four years. At present he is taking advanced work in poultry husbandry at the University of Illinois and will go on full time with the I. A. A. June 1.

Mr. Butcher comes to the I. A. A. from Iowa State College where he has been handling the agricultural publicity. He has also served as editor-in-chief of one of the student publications at Ames during the past year.

PIG KILLS A MAN.

ROME.—One of the quaintest accidents ever recorded took place recently at Prattomaggiore Grano, near Naples. A peasant was walking through the village when, without warning, a pig fell on his head, killing him instantly. It was discovered that the pig had forced its way through the bars of a balcony on the second floor of a house. How he got on the balcony was not disclosed.

First act requiring use of radio on passenger-carrying vessels was approved June 24, 1919.

THE LOT OF THOUSANDS

When hope lies dead within the heart,
By secret sorrow close conceal'd,
We shrink lest looks or words impart
What must not be reveal'd.

'Tis hard to smile when one would weep;
To speak when one would silent be;
To wake when one should wish to sleep,
And wake to agony.

Yet such the lot by thousands cast
Who wander in this world of care,
And bend beneath the bitter blast,
To save them from despair.

But Nature waits her guests to greet,
Where disappointment cannot come;
And Time guides with unerring feet
The weary wanderers home.

OBITUARY

MRS. ANNA T. SCHUCK.

(Contributed.)

While death always brings its burden of sorrow, there are some whose passing on gives one a sense of victory. It is so for every true Christian, who has fulfilled his duty to God, fellow men and self. For such we claim the promised coronations of life, righteousness and joy, and feel that they are better off in the Eternal Home with their Saviour, than they were here. While there is the vacant place, the absence of the voice that is now still, the broken relationships with this life, yet for the one gone there is something so much better that we sorrow not for them but rather rejoice. That is the feeling which possesses us in regard to Mother Schuck's death. She lived her life here faithfully and well and now she has been received into that upper and better life which shall continue forever.

Anna Mary Trueth was born in Heynscheydar, Barbeloth, Germany, June 20, 1857, and died at her home, 209 Lincoln Way, west, Dixon, Ill., Saturday morning, April 12, 1924, aged 66 years, 9 months and 22 days.

She came to America with her parents, John and Mary Trueth, when she was one and a half years of age. Her parents were pioneer settlers in Palmyra township, Lee county, and contributed their full share in the development of the community along every line of uplift.

Miss Trueth was united in marriage to Daniel Schuck on June 23, 1874. To them ten children were born of whom nine are living. One son, George Daniel, passed away in death at the age of 15 years. The living children are: Jacob of Blue Earth, Minn.; Edith, wife of Gus Fritz, Sterling; William, Arthur, Mary and Paul of Dixon; Richard, Mapleton, Minn.; Myrtle, wife of Wilbur Bates, Dixon, and Clarence, Ft. Des Moines, Iowa. Besides these children, Mrs. Schuck leaves three brothers, John, Trouth, Perry Iowa, and Jacob and Fred of Dixon, to mourn her loss.

After living for nearly half a century at the old homestead in Palmyra township, where they reared their family and were favorably known and held in high esteem by neighbors and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Schuck sold their farm in 1918, making their home with their daughter, Mrs. Gus Fritz in Sterling for one year. Then they purchased the home, 209 Lincoln Way west in Dixon, on which the father was permitted to enjoy three months when death moved him on July 26, 1919, to the Home on high.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuck were faithful members of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Dixon, all their lives. Pastors were always assured of a hearty welcome in their home, where their children were brought up in the virtue and admonition of the Lord, where lessons of prayer and Christian devotion and service were taught by precept and example. Now may all the children hold in grateful memory their father and mother and so live that there may be some time a glad reunion in the Home of Eternal in Heaven.

Most Popular Oldsmobile Ever Built

Since its announcement last October, the model 30 Oldsmobile Six has achieved a great success. The public recognizes the wholly unusual value offered in this six—a value well typified in the coupe.

Here first of all is a Fisher body—which speaks volumes for its quality. We could lay bare the frame of the coupe and show you the splendid workmanship of Fisher craftsmen. We could show you how the fine hardwood frames are mortise-wedged, glued, screwed and bolted. We could become very technical in explaining the scientific bracing of all the parts which are subject to strains, but all this quality can be taken for granted when we say—Body by Fisher.

As for performance—we want you to drive this car. Then you will appreciate the value of this joint product of Oldsmobile and General Motors.

FORMER ROCHELLE BOY IS AUTHOR OF BOOK ABOUT CHILI

Earl Chapin May Complete Fine Treatise About Country.

Rochelle, April 14—Miss Martha G. Stark, of Oak Park, has been elected to a position in the English and Physical Education department in the local high school vacated by the resignation of Miss Frances Wehl. Miss Wehl resigned to accept a position in the Hammond high school, Hammond, Ind. Miss Stark graduated from the U. of Chicago, class 1923. She majored in English during her university career, and she also played basket ball and took courses in the departments of physical education, baseball, hockey, folk dancing and calisthenics.

Earl Chapin May, a former Rochelle boy, recently completed a book of some four hundred and sixty pages, profusely illustrated, of the people, history and climate of Chili. From the opening chapter, the reader's interest is held completely. It abounds in humorous incidents, is replete with vivid descriptions of intense interest and thoughtful contrasts of this progressive country with our own.

"Some day," he says, "the United States will awaken to the fact that our economic future lies there, not in Europe or Asia." And he finds the keen, virile, ambitious Chileans most akin to us of all the South American people.

The account of a 2000 mile journey through Chili—a leisurely journey broken by many sojourns in cities and provinces—reveals these Yankees of the South to the Yankees of the North.

The imprint of Spain is upon Chili, its civilization is Spanish. But North American Yankees have influenced these South American Yankees because a North American printer ran the first Chilean daily press in 1827. Climate and isolation, the author tells us, have assisted in giving to Chili national ideals similar to ours. Chili resembles California in scenery, fruits and flowers. "Chileans resemble Texans," he says, "in temperament; they are fascinating, delightful. But first, last and all the time they are Chileans." The book is published by the Century Co.

A movement is on foot, sponsored by the Rochelle Post American Legion, to secure a uniform system of street decorations on all occasions calling for the display of the American flag. The Shenandoah Standard Decorating System has been adopted. Receptacles will be set in the sidewalks in uniform distances apart, and about six inches from the curb line. Flag poles, 12 feet high, will be set in these receptacles when occasion arises, each bearing a 4x6 flag. The business and professional men of the city are co-operating with the Legion in the movement.

Miss Ella Duplap of Chicago, president of the Rebekah State Assembly of Illinois, conducted a school of instruction at the Odd Fellows hall here, Friday, April 11.

Earl Sproul, who recently sold his grocery store on Cherry avenue has been engaged to manage the American store. Mr. Sproul will take over the management of the store on Monday.

Attorney and Mrs. V. P. Landon returned from a motor trip to Mississippi and Louisiana, where they spent several weeks, Wednesday.

Frank Thorp, Flag township assessor, is at work on his annual task of assessing.

AMUSEMENTS

SISSIE AND BLAKE

"IN BARNVILLE"

B. C. Whitney's new stars, Sissie and Blake—former stars and composers of "Shuffle Along," whose great success for two years on Broadway, where they became the fad of New York's "400," and all last winter in Chicago, electrified Europeans to such an extent that foreign managements immediately vied with each other for their appearance in every civilized part of the globe, a distinction more broadly important than was ever accorded American Colored Artists of recent prominence—will begin the second month of their record breaking engagement at the Illinois Theater, Chicago, next Sunday evening, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday, in their brand new musical dancing comedy production, "In Barnville."

Three rollicking book was written by Noble Sissie and Lew Payton, the music and lyrics by Sissie and Blake, and the entire production staged by Julian Mitchell.

Among the twenty tuneful song hits that Chicago will dine and dance to all summer are "Jasmine Lane," "A Million Little Cupids in the Sky," "Dixie Moon," "Sons of Old Black Joe," "Manda," "A Jackey's Life for Mine," "Chocolate Dandies" and "Land of Dancing Pickaninnies."

The big cast and chorus of 125 European and American colored artists includes Lottie Gee, Lew Payton, George Cooper, the Four Harmony Kings, Calada Snow, Josephine Baker, Wm. H. Hann, George Bagby, "Dancing Charlie" Davis, "Onion" Robertson, a Barnville (Mississippi) Pickaninny Band and Sissie and Blake's Famous Symphony orchestra.

The new musical gem is supplied by B. C. Whitney with a production embodying prodigious expenditure, catchy, lilting melodies, rollicking Dixie comedians and a profusion of beautiful singing and dancing Creole girls, with frequent settings, each more dazzling and iridescent than its predecessors.

Mr. Whitney has produced many a costly musical production but seldom one more beautiful and effervescent than this new Sissie and Blake, joyous offering, "In Barnville."

Amy Leslie, in the Daily News, says "In Barnville" gave Chicago a thrill of the year with a great big husky show, showered with beauty and charm and worth-while amusement."

The "In Barnville" Company will go direct to New York City immediately following the Chicago engagement. See it before Broadway does!

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

SUNDAY SHOWS.

Editor The Telegraph: Why single out the Sunday night movie? Because it is the most powerful enemy of the Sunday night church.

The Sunday night movie is a temptation to the immature and thoughtless elements of the community. When they yield, it lowers their moral and religious ideals and loosens their hold upon the church, which alone can be relied upon to give them the proper ethical and spiritual ballast against the storms of life. It entices those adults who have no high moral ideal, and helps to break down what moral principles they have. The Sunday night show is the singing siren that lures to spiritual death.

The Sunday movie is a violation of the law of God, and the church member who attends violates a divine command and is committing spiritual suicide by drinking poison.

The Sunday movie is a violation of public policy. Humanity can not get along without religion, and the church is vital to the community. Public morals must be conserved or crime and lawlessness will run riot. The Sunday movie strikes at the very root of national life because it hits at the one institution doing more than any other to conserve public morals and religious ideals.

The Sunday movie violates the principle of six days for business and pleasure and one day for rest and worship. This principle came from God and is essential to human well-being and progress. Because some places of business break the law of God and the state, is no argument for the Sunday show. No fight against the six-day screen if it gives clean pictures, but death to the Sunday show, which is a powerful impulse to the complete commercialism of the Sabbath, and helps to break down and destroy the only bulwark of the workingman against the insatiable greed of those employers who would compel their workmen to toil seven days a week.

The Sunday movie negatives all the work of the church and every influence for moral and spiritual uplift. Does Dixon want the Sunday movie or does she want the church? She can not long have both, for they are exactly opposite. There can be no compromise. Both can not live. Both bid for the same company. The crowd goes to one or the other, not to both.

Dixon should have what is best for her people. If the movie gives a stronger moral and spiritual impulse than the church, Dixon should attend and support the movie instead of the

MAJOR ROBBINS GIVES FACTS TO THE PUBLIC

Well Known Citizen Thought Indigestion Would Prove Fatal—Gives Tanlac Credit For Present Good Health.

Major W. W. Robbins, a prominent citizen of Indianapolis, Ind., residing at 1530 North Illinois St., recently had the following to say regarding his experience with TANLAC:

"Three years ago I suffered a nervous breakdown with serious derangements of the stomach. I had frequent attacks of acute indigestion, two of which proved almost fatal. I also had a tired feeling, loss of vitality, and went down in weight.

"Failing to get beneficial results from other sources I resorted to TANLAC. After about five weeks of the treatment now my appetite is exceedingly good, my weight is on the increase and I am a great deal stronger.

"It delights me to have my friends tell me I am looking well, and it also gives me pleasure to tell them that TANLAC is what has brought about this change. It is the best tonic and system builder I have ever found."

church. Is the movie producing a nation of spiritual, moral, God-fearing young people? If so, it ought to display some of its product.

The church must get into action against the lawless Sunday show as she did against the saloon. The church must save the Sabbath to save America. Our nation will endure on the rock of law enforcement or it will sink in the quicksands of lawlessness.

To save the Sabbath, the Sunday night show must be closed.

What can the church do against the Sunday night show? Turn on the light. Battle against it. No battle for right is ever won until the right conquers, and never lost until the fighters surrender. This is a war till the finish. It is only a beginning of the fight for national safety, and for the moral preservation of our fair city.

GET AT THE CAUSE!

Many Dixon Folks Are Showing How to Avoid Needless Suffering.

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day alike, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys—have brought peace and comfort to many Dixon people. Profit by this Dixon resident's experience.

H. W. Wheeler, contractor, 815 W. 3rd St., says: "I had kidney trouble. To bend over to pick up something was impossible, and every time a pain jabbed my kidneys it felt as though they were being thrown from me. I had to pass the kidney secretions two or three times an hour and they were scanty. Doan's Pills helped me in a few days. My back was soon strong and the pain was gone from my kidneys."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Wheeler had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

TOWN OF CYCLISTS

Southampton, Eng.—Southampton claims to have more cyclists than any town in proportion to its size. It is estimated that one in every four persons rides a bicycle and thousands of machines can be seen in the streets at the busy hours.

WAGON DRIVE LAUNCHED BY BOYS OF CITY

Bright and early this morning half a dozen boys were at the Telegraph office with signed six months subscriptions, entitling each boy to a Royal Coaster Wagon. Although announcement of the offer of a Royal Coaster wagon for each boy or girl turning in five six-month orders was made but last night already scores of boys in Dixon have registered and are out after the big coaster wagon.

This offer to the boys and girls of Dixon and surrounding territory is the most liberal ever made in this city. The coaster wagons are of the very best quality and manufactured by one of the best coaster wagon companies in the country. The bodies are of well seasoned hardwood, reinforced with hardwood cleats, with detachable box.

The gear is of steel with extra strong channel construction thoroughly braced. The wheels are of the double disc type, 10 inches high, with roller bearings and rubber tires. The wagons are well finished and the kind that any boy or girl can be proud to own. The box size is 16 by 36 inches making a roomy comfortable wagon for any purpose.

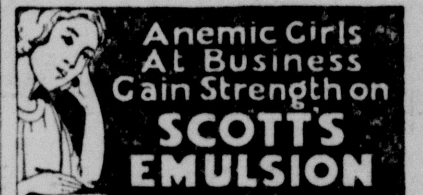

All that is required to secure one of these Royal Coasters is to secure five new six-month orders to the Telegraph. Candidates for the coasters should register with the Coaster Man at the Telegraph by phone or mail and turn in their orders as rapidly as they get them. As soon as the five new orders are secured they will be verified by the Telegraph and the coaster wagon delivered to the candidate.

Boys and girls can have plenty of fun and entertainment with these Royal Coasters. Besides, the wagons serve a useful purpose about the home in the way of helping mother and father with the errands.

Every boy and girl may have a fine Royal Coaster if he or she makes up his mind to get one. Have your neighbors and friends help us. You only need five new orders. The Telegraph wanted to make it as easy as possible for every girl and boy in Dixon to have a Royal Coaster, that is why so few orders are required.

Wagons will be on display at the Dixon Telegraph and elsewhere in Dixon tomorrow.

Whoever sees one of these Coasters will certainly want one so get busy. Get in touch with the Telegraph Coaster Man and get your order blank and instructions at once. Your friends and neighbors will be glad to help you secure one of these fine sturdy coasters.

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

WEDNESDAY

The Sufferings of Jesus

Read Mt. 26:36-46. Text: 26:42. My Father, if this cannot pass away, except I drink it, thy will be done.

"In the suffering of Jesus' soul over the wrong-doing of men, we have an everlasting expression of the suffering that constitutes one element in the vast will of the heavenly Father. If there were nothing else but suffering it would be a picture of strength."

MEDITATION: Freely to offer one's best self to another and be refused brings disappointment and pain; the more one has offered the greater the pain. Jesus offered men that which they sorely needed, but they refused and set themselves to believe that he was evil rather than good. Yet he went the whole way of his life he would give it in the same spirit that he manifested in all his days of the flesh.

PERSONAL QUESTION: Am I weaker or stronger because of my sufferings?

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, may we also win character through obedience. Let us believe in thine infinite resources. Let us have faith that it is thy will to bestow on us that which our soul needs for its purification.

tion. When the way is dark, lift thou the clouds that we may see. When we become confused, give us the assurance of thy voice, and when alone, the comfort of thy presence, through Christ. Amen.

Proposes Federal System of Co-op. Marketing Assns.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, April 16.—Establishment of a federal system of cooperative marketing of farm products is proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Williams, republican, of Michigan. Authorization also would be given clearing house associations to form export corporations under Webb-Pomerene act.

A board of seven members is provided in the bill to administer its provisions, two of whom would be Secretaries of Agriculture and Commerce.

The bill calls for an appropriation of $15,000,000 to cover the first years of its operation.

DODGE BROTHERS

SPECIAL

4-PASSENGER COUPE

To see this car is to commend its beauty.

It stands out strikingly, both in the symmetry of its design and in the excellent good taste and smartness of its equipment.

In the final analysis, however, the most popular feature will unquestionably prove to be its exceptional riding ease.

The seats, the new spring suspension and Dodge Brothers special 6-ply balloon-type tires unite in achieving an altogether new efficiency in protecting passengers from the ruts and jolts of the road.

For Play and For Profit

Here are some suggestions:

For play, you can use your wagon to coast down hills, to pull your play-mates around, to haul all sorts of things, and play lots of games.

For profit, you can use your Coaster Wagon to carry heavy loads, such as trunks and suitcases. You will find that you can make lots of money by hauling things for the people in your neighborhood.

THE DIXON EVENING TELEGRAPH WILL GIVE TO EVERY BOY AND GIRL IN DIXON AND VICINITY ONE OF THESE ROOMY COASTER WAGONS—Body size 16x36 inches—who secures five new subscribers to the Telegraph for six months or more.

Do You Want One

We want to give a Telegraph Coaster Wagon to every boy and girl who really wants to have one. These are real coaster wagons—strong and husky, made to last a lifetime even with rough use.

Just think what fun it will be to have a coaster wagon with disc wheels and rubber tires! A coaster that is built for speed and safety. A coaster that has roller bearings in each wheel and a serviceable brake, so that you can slow down or stop. Won't that be great!

How to Get a Telegraph Coaster

All that is required to win one of these wonderful Coasters is to have five of your friends or neighbors who do not already subscribe to The Telegraph agree to take the Telegraph for six months. Have your brother or sister, parents or friends aid you in getting a Telegraph Coaster. Have the five new subscribers sign the blanks below or get a blank at The Telegraph office. As soon as the orders are verified you will receive your brand new Coaster. Do not collect any money. Just have them signed.

IMPORTANT

Be sure to register as a candidate for a Telegraph Coaster as soon as you start to get subscriptions. Register with the Coaster man at the Telegraph by telephoning or coming personally to The Telegraph office. By so doing the Coaster man will give you advice and assistance in getting your five subscriptions.

Also as soon as you get a subscriber notify The Telegraph even though you have not secured all of the required number. In this way your orders may be verified more rapidly and speed up delivery of the Telegraph Coaster to you.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Sallie Peck, employee of the Fair Deal Five & Ten, quarrels with her policeman sweetheart, Michael Curtis. That night Sallie goes into the yard to take down a washing for Ma Brennan, with whom Sallie lives. A crash shakes the earth and something strikes Sallie a blow on the head.

When she regains consciousness, the girl finds herself in strange surroundings. A French maid calls her Alva Copeland and Madame Copeland claims her as her step-daughter. Sallie discovers that she is in the hands of crooks and is being substituted for the real Alva Copeland. A man servant helps Sallie escape from the house but takes her to a den of thieves.

There she finds a prisoner who is the real Alva Copeland. The girls are rescued by Michael Curtis and Captain Trevor.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"What did you say the name of number 6 that Halloran car was, Michael?"

"A Carmagnac, '30, and the number is 27-760 Z." He glanced up at her. "Why are you so curious about it?"

"Curious, is it?" Ma Brennan snorted indignantly. "You two'll be more curious about what'll you eat for supper if I don't get on up street to market."

"Well go to market for you, Ma. Sallie offered. "Honest, I ain't tired any more."

"It is in your bed ye should be for a month to come, after what they done to ye?" There was a suspicion of tears in Ma Brennan's voice and as if conscious of it she pushed Sallie's head gently from her knee and rose ponderously, adding with dignity: "Barrin' the lumbago, I've done me own market for forty year an' I'm still able to, thanks be! Michael, don't you let her stir off this stoop or lift her hand to a thing. I'll not be long."

She waddled into the house for her bonnet and Sallie smiled into Mike's eyes.

"Ain't she splendid? Oh, Mike, you have to be in trouble among strangers to learn what your own folks mean to you!"

"I don't," Mike replied softly and as he raised to his lips the little hand on which since the previous evening a small diamond had gleamed. "I've known, always, since you were just a little girl!"

Sallie leaned against him contentedly.

"We're the scandal of the neighborhood," she sighed. "I don't mind a bit, do you? Why, Ma, what have you got on that cape for? It's warm as summer."

"I've a choice here. Here comes Mrs. Nolan an' Jim! I've not time to talk to them now, but you might as well think they stay for supper. There'll be plenty."

Ma Brennan had reappeared wrapped in a voluminous cape of ancient vintage and now she took her way toward the railroad bridge, stopping only for a word with her old friends.

Mrs. Nolan and her son could not accept the invitation for supper. It appeared, but their call was succeeded by several others, and just as dusk was settling down like Thorakim crossed the bridge, her arms laden with packages, but instead of stopping at her own gate next door she came toward them, her sorrowful, sharp-featured face wreathed in smiles.

"Miss Brennan have not comin' home to supper," she announced. "I tank I'll see in kitchen? She say dey have for you, an' Michael should fix dem."

"All these, like?" Mike took the packages from her, and Sallie asked wonderingly:

"But where's Ma gone? She said she wouldn't be long?"

"She say something 'bout ole Mr. Cooper's man, dat he bane took real bad an' she go over an' help. Dat's beautiful ring, Sallie! I am so happy for you, not only dat you are alive but dat you have your own man!"

"Sallie, dearest, look! What has Ma been up to? She's sent us a regular feast!"

He had lighted the lamp in the kitchen and put more coals on the fire and the old room looked very cheerful and dear to the girl's eyes as she halted for a moment in the doorway and then flew to his side.

"A jar of cream and fresh strawberries, so early in the season! Oh, what's this from the Elite Restaurant? Fried chicken, all done up in separate paper!" Sallie marveled.

"Here's a head of lettuce, too, and a bottle of salad dressing, which she swore she'd never let in her house! I do believe she's done this to give us a little party, but I wish she had come back!"

Like two children at play they arranged their little feast and sat long over it, busily unconscious of the flight of time, and it was only when the clock on the shelf over the stove struck ten that Sallie sprang up in alarm.

"Mike! Where's Ma! She's never out as late as this except with me."

"Well go to market for you, Ma. Sallie offered. "Honest, I ain't tired any more."

"It is in your bed ye should be for a month to come, after what they done to ye?" There was a suspicion of tears in Ma Brennan's voice and as if conscious of it she pushed Sallie's head gently from her knee and rose ponderously, adding with dignity: "Barrin' the lumbago, I've done me own market for forty year an' I'm still able to, thanks be! "Is that so?" Ma Brennan eyed him guilelessly. "Yet, if he was to come to light a good part of that ten thousand reward offered would be paid for him?"

"Of course, but you needn't change the subject like that!" Mike spoke with playful severity. "Where have you been gadding?"

"I was not," Ma Brennan agreed placidly while Sallie stared. "I've been havin' an illegitimate time ridin' 'round in an automobile all by myself with Halloran's own son up in front to drive me, though the old man is a robber, as I told him to his face."

"Look here, Ma! You're got something up your sleeve!" Mike interrupted with a sudden change of manner. "Why were you asking me all about Halloran's car?"

"Why was the Copeland girl askin' Halloran all about it?" Ma Brennan countered. "Divil a bit would she care was it a chariot or what as long as it took her quick an' far—unless she wanted to find it again. Why would she want to do that unless she meant to hide something in it?"

"It came back or send for it?" Mike was eying the old lady steadily but he said nothing and she went on:

"I know thim Hallorans from 'way back, an' they're a lazy lot. If that automobile had just been fresh gone over an' done up they'd give it just a brush-up once in a month except for the floor, maybe, an' 'tis only a week since the wreck. There's another thing. When I cleaned up Sallie's room after that Copeland girl had dressed in there, one of the towels was all stuck up with a great wad of fresh cold cream, as if somebody had slapped a handful of lard there. You told me yesterday that when the boardin' house keeper, Miss Janet, went through the black bag she found the girl disappeared she found nothing in it but clothes and toilet articles and a big cold cream jar all gouged out. It come to me, wouldn't that be an elegant place to hide thim diamonds, an' wouldn't the Copeland girl have been scared to death if she found thim by accident when she used a dab of 'em 'round thim the first room, an' get rid of 'em the first way she knew how?"

Ma Brennan paused for a moment, fumbling with the knotted handkerchief which she had held tightly in her lap and then continued: "I took me ride in Halloran's car an' while the daylight lasted I looked it all over, tellin' young Halloran to mind an' keep his eyes on the road ahead for fear o' runnin' into something, an' when it got dark I felt 'round thim I found it—a bit of a place where the coverin' of the under side of a cushion had been worked loose. So Michael, if Miss Copeland don't need it, I'll trouble you to claim that reward to-morrow for me!"

She held out her hand, in the test-worn palm of which four superb diamonds scintillated like balls of living, blue-white flame.

"Ma!" Sallie gasped again. "How wonderful of you! Why—why you're a rich woman!"

"It's the best piece of detective work that's been done on the whole case!" Mike took Ma Brennan's empty hand in both of his and shook it warmly. "Wait till I tell the chief about it in the morning! And when the New York papers get hold of it you'll have more publicity than Diamond Bess herself! What'll you do with all that money?"

Ma Brennan's eyes filled with ready tears as she said softly:

"'Tis to be my wedding present to my two children, to furnish up a bit o' a home."

"Oh, no, Ma! We couldn't think—" "Never! It's yours to get some enjoyment out of for yourself!" Sallie and Mike spoke in chorus.

"Very well, then," Ma Brennan tossed her head. "The rewards ye'll both be gettin' out of 'is case will give ye a grand home an' a start in life. Mine will go in the bank for little Michael Aloysius Curtis that is to be, by the blesin' an' 'Hivin'! And that's me last word!"

It was rather interesting to hear the doctor this morning, Sadie. He said that Mr. Carton was getting along all right, except that something must be troubling him—his nerves seemed shot to pieces. Mr. Carton looked at me, but I acted as if the doctor's diagnosis meant nothing to me.

After the doctor had gone Mr. Carton continued. "What do you think I had better do with this little piece of coral, Miss Bledsoe?"

"Well," I said, "that depends on how much you believe of the story connected with it."

"Of course I don't believe any of it."

"Then, do you want to keep the trinket?"

"Of course I do. He's a pretty fellow, isn't he?"

"Personally, Mr. Carton," I answered, "I think he's very ugly, but I should think you'd want to keep him."

I said this, Sadie, because I knew the poor man wanted to hang on to the little statue and besides a couldn't see how he could explain why he hadn't turned him over to his friend in the first place.

"Well, I guess I'll take your advice," said Mr. Carton. "But remember if I get into any trouble you'll have to take the blame," he added with a smile.

Isn't that just like a man? He's always wanting some woman to be vicariously punished for his own sins.

There, my dear, I have shattered every bit of professional ethics possible in this letter, but it was so interesting and I know you will not betray me in any way—we have been together too long and talked over too many bedside secrets.

haven't yet decided whether Mr. Carton is in love with his friend's wife or not, but I do know this, however much he is in love with her, she doesn't know it and he will never tell her. Between you and me I think he is quite the best man of the two, although Mr. Prescott seemed very charming.

I could see he is rather weak where women are concerned. I'd awfully much like to see Mrs. Prescott. I imagine she is a very nice woman—otherwise she would not have written the kind of a letter she did to her husband about the little god.

I'm wondering why this Mr. Sydney Carton was never married. I should have thought that somebody would have gobbled him up, for you know, Sadie, that if any woman gets her eye upon a man she is usually clever enough to make him think he wants her. George Bernard Shaw was right when he said that it was a man's business to obtain the wherewithal to live like a gentleman and it was a woman's business to get married.

I used to think, before I finished my training, that I would be married before his, but I see so much of men's weaknesses and foolish idiosyncrasies that I'd be afraid to accept any one of them.

How's your young man, dear? Does he still fulfill all your ideals? When are you going to be married? Let me know in time, for I want to come to the wedding. Sincerely,

ELLEN.

AIRSHIP BROKE LOOSE

By Associated Press. Rome, April 15.—The Italian airship No. 1, moored at the airdrome at Ciampino near here, was carried away today by a violent gust of wind and two soliders and a mechanic who were unable to let go of the mooring rope were carried 300 feet and dashed to death.

After some maneuvering the airship descended without further mishap.
